Grizzlies Seek Upset Win

Senior Bob Byrne Ranks High Nationally in Kickoff Returns

By FRED C. CUNNINGHAM

Athletic News Director
Montana University

This afternoon marks the thirty-first time that a Cougar and Grizzly team have met on the gridiron. This fine football rivalry started way back in 1903 with the first six games being won by the Washington State eleven. 1914 and 1947 have been the only two years that Montana has been able to defeat their traditional stronger rivals. So the record book reads 28 wins for WSC and 2 victories for the Grizzlies.

Montana, very much the under dog, will be out in full force today for their third win in history over the Cougars. The 1951 season record of Montana is far from impressive and if they can win this one it will take the sting out of some of those lopsided defeats suffered earlier in the year. The Grizzlies know that today's game will be the toughest of the season and that it will take 60 minutes of Championship play to win over one of the best Washington State teams in years.

The Grizzlies will be relying on their brilliant little right halfback Bob Byrne to perform the majority of the backfield duties. Byrne is ranked 2nd to none as an outstanding back in the Skyline Conference. This triple threat is at the top or a close contender in rushing yardage, pass receiving, and punting in the conference statistic departments. Bob currently is the nation's No. 1 kickoff return back in total yardage and is ranking 18th in rushing. This will be the final collegiate game for Bob, who has been Montana's ace running back for three straight years. Assisting Byrne in the backfield this afternoon will be Geo. Vucurovich, quarterback; Bob Yurko, left half, and Fred Mirchoff, fullback.

All three are Juniors and will see plenty of action for Montana next year. Paul Wold and Bob Graves are top flight backs who have received injuries and probably will not play this afternoon.

The Grizzly line is big but lacks the much needed depth that is necessary in modern football. From end to end, they average a heavy 205 pounds. This same group held Washington

State last year to 14 points and allowed them to trespass in Montana territory only twice. They are: ends, Harold Maus, Ed Anderson; tackles, Dave Miller, Bob Lamley; guards, Bob Antonich, Gordon Jones center, Jim Murray. Backing up the line as good replacements are Mel Ingram, Jim Burke, Frank Nickel, Joe Roberts, Bob Stewart and Dick Linsey.

All in all a good hard fought game can be expected. Washington State and Montana games have always been well played and exciting so stay with us Sport Fans, this could be one of the best.

"I hope you boys don't mind! I'm just dying of curiosity!"

Final Cougar Home Game

Twelve Cougar Seniors See Final Rogers Field Action Today

By DON FARIS
Athletic Publicity Director
Washington State College

Washington State's rampaging Cougars of 1951, already the highest scoring team in conference games in the history of the college, make their final appearance of the season at Rogers field against Montana university this afternoon.

The game will also mark the last home game for an even dozen Cougar grid veterans. For them it marks the end of college football before Cougar fans and brings to mind the many games—both won and lost—at Rogers field, the home of the Cougars.

The veterans are:

Captain Gene Reiger, guard, Spokane; Bud Roffler, halfback and defensive captain, Spokane; John Rowley, end, Port Orchard; Bill Geppert, tackle, Tacoma; Ray Hobbs, fullback, Sheridan, Wyoming; Landy James, tackle, La-Connor; Byron Bailey, leading ground gainer and halfback, Seattle; John Turner, tackle, Klamath Falls, Ore.; Sonny Galloway, Exeter, Calif.; Bill Bowen, tackle, Tacoma, and Pete Rademacher, Tieton, Wash.

The Cougars have compiled an amazing offensive record in the last two years since Coach Forest Evashevski came to Cougarville to direct football. Only once have the Cougars failed to score in 17 games. During the last two years they have met the best in the Pacific Coast conference and outstanding intersectional opponents.

For the 1950 season the Cougars averaged more than 18 points a game. This season the Cougars have scored 206 points in eight games, six against the leaders of the Coast conference. Against the three top conference teams the Cougars have lost by only 25 points—an average slightly more than one touchdown a game.

The future looks particularly bright for the Cougars. There are 18 juniors and 17 sophomores carried on the Washington State college roster. In addition the Cougar freshmen list

16 all-state players on the squad with several of the youngsters already on the WSC travelling squad.

The Cou-Babes defeated a strong Fort Lawton team, composed of ex-college and professional gridders, 7-6 in the opening game. In their second encounter the WSC freshmen ended a 15-game winning streak for the Olympic college team at Bremerton with a resounding 18-7 triumph.

The schedule for next season will be the best ever played by the Cougars. Intersectional games, with the Cougars visiting foreign fields for each contest, are against Baylor university at Waco, Texas; Ohio State at Columbus, Ohio, and Oklahoma A&M at Stillwater, Oklahoma. Inland Empire grid fans can look forward to seeing the great Indians of Stanford university; Oregon State college Beavers; University of Washington Huskies and the Idaho Vandals on the Cougar home field.

In a short form, the schedule is this—seven Pacific Coast conference games and three intersectionals against the best teams in the nation. The season opens on Sept. 19 against the University of Southern California in the Coliseum at Los Angeles and closes Nov. 29 at Pullman against Washington university. The Cougars have one open date—Oct. 11 which falls between the game against Baylor on Oct. 4 and the Ohio State contest at Columbus on Oct. 18.

The Grizzlies enter today's game with the all-time record showing 27 wins for the Cougars and two wins for the Grizzlies while not a tie game has resulted from the long rivalry. In the last two years the Cougars have won by the margin of only one touchdown. Scores were—1949, WSC 13, Montana 7; 1950, WSC 14, Montana 7.

Always known for the fine quality of teams produced, Montana will be shooting for an upset win in the 31st meeting between the Cougars and the Grizzlies.
